MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Strong Huynh (“Plaintiff”) submits this memorandum in support of his unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement. The Parties negotiated the proposed Settlement at arms’ length. It is fair and reasonable and will dispose of this class action in its entirety.

Plaintiff is a former non-exempt employee of Defendant Jabil Inc. (Defendant” and, collectively with Plaintiff, the “Parties”) and worked for Defendant in California as a non-exempt hourly employee from about 2019 through October 2021. Plaintiff filed this wage and hour class action, alleging that Defendant violated California labor laws by failing to pay wages for all hours worked, failing to timely pay wages to employees whose employment had terminated, failing to provide accurate itemized wage statements, failure to provide timely uninterrupted meal and rest periods, and failure to indemnify for business expenditures. Plaintiff further alleges that Defendant violated the unfair competition law (Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, et seq.). (Plaintiff’s complaint is ECF Dkt. No. 22.) Defendant denies all allegations. Plaintiff brought this class action lawsuit on behalf of himself and all persons who were employed by Defendant in California as a non-exempt employee from four (4) years prior to the commencement of this action through present. (Declaration of Kevin Mahoney (“Mahoney Decl.”), ¶3.) Plaintiff now seeks preliminary approval of the Joint Stipulation of Class Action Settlement (hereinafter “Agreement” or “Settlement Agreement”), which will resolve this action in its entirety. Although the operative complaint defines the proposed class as all persons who were employed by Defendant in California as a non-exempt employee from four (4) years prior to the commencement of this action through present, the Parties have agreed to limit the scope of the class for settlement purposes to exclude any former non-exempt employees who worked for Defendant in California during the Class Period (i) who signed severance agreements in connection with reductions in

1 force and who were not re-hired to work for Defendant in California after executing 2 the severance agreement or (ii) who participated in the Walker Settlement and who 3 have not worked for Defendant in California after January 19, 2021. The difference 4 in composition between the proposed settlement class and the proposed class in the 5 operative pleading is warranted because individuals who signed severance and were 6 not re-hired to work for Defendant in California after executing the severance 7 agreement and individuals who participated in the Walker Settlement have already 8 received compensation for their release of the claims that Plaintiff is pursuing on a 9 class-wide basis in this case.

10 If approved by the Court, the Settlement will create a gross settlement amount 11 (hereinafter referred to as “Gross Settlement Amount”) in the amount of one million 12 forty thousand dollars ($1,040,000.00) for approximately one thousand one hundred 13 fifty (1,150) Class Members. (Mahoney Dec., ¶4.) The Gross Settlement Amount 14 includes payments made to Settlement Class Members, settlement administration 15 costs, awards of attorneys’ fees and expenses, and a service award to Plaintiff as set 16 forth below. The proposed Settlement is non-reversionary. Class Members will not 17 be required to submit claim forms in order to receive their share of the settlement 18 proceeds. Pursuant to the terms of the Settlement Agreement, Class Members will 19 be provided with a court approved Notice describing the settlement in detail, which 20 will include each Class Member’s anticipated share of the settlement, premised on 21 the Court’s approval of administrative costs, attorneys’ fees and expenses, and 22 Plaintiff’s service award approved by the Court as requested (“Class Notice”).
23 (Mahoney Dec., Ex. A, Exhibit A to the Settlement Agreement.) Following receipt 24 of the Class Notice, the Class Members will have the option to “opt out” or elect 25 not to participate in the settlement. If they do not affirmatively make that election, 26 then each remaining Class Member will receive a settlement check after the 27 “effective date” of the settlement is reached, following the Final Approval of the 28 Settlement.

1 The Parties' settlement was reached after two (2), arms-length mediations
2 with experienced wage and hour mediators, Tripper Ortman, Esq. and Jeffrey 3 Fuchsman, Esq. (Mahoney Dec., ¶¶6-7.) Information exchanged prior to the 4 mediation included redacted wage and hour information, time and pay records for 5 approximately twenty-five percent (25%) of the Class, all Plaintiff's time and pay 6 records, employee handbooks, and other policies. Expert analysis was used by 7 Plaintiff for both mediations to analyze and extrapolate the time and payroll records 8 exchanged. Further, Defendant provided information and documents regarding the 9 prior wage and hour class action settlement reached by Defendant that obtained
10 final approval on May 12, 2022, pertaining to the following cases: Walker v. Jabil
11 Inc. et al., Santa Clara County Superior Court, Case No. 19CV347835; Moss v.
12 Jabil Inc. et al., Alameda County Superior Court, Case No. RG19039453; and Moss
13 v. Jabil Inc. et al., Alameda County Superior Court, Case No. HG20050536. The 14 Parties disagreed extensively on the theories involved in the litigation throughout 15 both mediation sessions. During the mediations, the Parties fully explored and 16 discussed with the mediators, legal issues in the case, potential strengths and 17 weaknesses on both sides. At the conclusion of the second mediation, the mediator 18 made a mediator's proposal that both Parties subsequently accepted. (Mahoney 19 Dec., ¶¶6-7.) The settlement reached between the Parties takes into account the 20 expense, complexity of continued litigation and risk that certification may not be 21 granted and, if so, that it may not be maintained under principles outlined by the 22 U.S. Supreme Court in Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Dukes, 131 S.Ct. 2541 (2011). In 23 addition, the Parties' proposed settlement accounts for Defendant's affirmative 24 defenses, which, if Defendant was successful would result in Plaintiff and class 25 members receiving nothing.

26 Plaintiff therefore requests that the Court grant this Motion for Preliminary 27 Approval of Class Action Settlement, approve the Notice Packet to Settlement Class
28 Members, appoint Phoenix Class Action Administration Solutions as the Class

1 Administrator, and schedule a Final Approval Hearing. Defendant does not oppose 2 this request. Plaintiff further requests that this Court provisionally certify a 3 settlement class for settlement purposes only. Plaintiff asserts that provisional 4 certification is appropriate because the proposed class is ascertainable, common 5 questions of law and fact predominate over any individualized questions, Plaintiff's 6 claims are typical of those of the Stipulated Class Members, Plaintiff and his 7 counsel can adequately represent the Class Members, and proceeding as a class 8 action is a superior means of resolving this dispute. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1715, 9 Defendant will serve the appropriate state and federal officials with the notice of 10 proposed settlement within 10 days of the filing of this motion.

II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

A. The Parties

Defendant is a Delaware corporation that manufactures that is involved in the design, engineering, and manufacturing of electronic circuit board assemblies and systems, in addition to supply chain services and was Plaintiff's employer. Defendant is conducting business in good standing in California, and at all times herein mentioned has regularly conducted business throughout the State of California.

Plaintiff was employed by Defendant as a non-exempt employee from in or about 2019 through October 2021.

B. Procedural History and Plaintiff's Claims

On October 21, 2022, Plaintiff filed this instant lawsuit on behalf of himself and a putative class in Alameda County Superior Court which was removed to this Court by Defendant. Defendant moved to dismiss Plaintiff's complaint. In lieu of a ruling from the Court, on December 8, 2022, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Complaint. Defendant moved to dismiss the First Amended Complaint which was granted in part dismissing claims under California Labor Code section 204, 206 and 1174 and denied in part. (Dkt. 31). In Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint, Plaintiff

1 alleges that Defendant (1) failed to pay employees for all wages for all hours 2 worked; (2) caused missed meal periods; (3) caused missed rest breaks; (4) failed 3 to provide all wages due upon discharge; (5) failed to provide itemized wage 4 statements and maintain accurate payroll records; (6) failed to indemnify employees 5 for necessary business expenses, including cell phone expenses; and (7) Violation 6 of Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200 et seq. (Unfair Business Practices).

7 Plaintiff's theories are detailed below in Section V.A. below. As Plaintiff's 8 theories of liability are based on policies that apply to all non-exempt hourly 9 employees and were subjected to the Defendant's policies, Plaintiff is confident class 10 certification would be granted as to all causes of action. As discussed below, 11 Defendant denies all liability. Defendant maintains that Class Members were paid 12 all wages, subject to a lawful meal and rest period policies and were not required to 13 reimburse expenses as required under California law. Defendant further contends 14 that they have complied at all times with all applicable California laws, including 15 the California Labor Code, the applicable California Wage Order(s), and the Unfair 16 Competition Law. Defendant contends that if this action were to be litigated further, 17 Defendant would have strong defenses to class certification and on the merits.

18 C. Mediations With Tripper Ortman and Jeffrey Fuchsman

19 On November 6, 2023, the Parties attended a private mediation with mediator 20 Tripper Ortman, Esq. The Parties did not reach a settlement at the first mediation.
 21 On April 11, 2024, the Parties attended a second full day in-person mediation with 22 Jeffrey Fuchsman, Esq., a well-known and experienced wage and hour class action 23 mediator. During the mediation the Parties fully explored and discussed with the 24 mediator legal issues in the case, potential strengths and weaknesses on both sides.
 25 At the conclusion of the mediation, the mediator made a mediator's proposal that 26 both Parties subsequently accepted. The parties then negotiated several drafts of 27 the settlement agreement. The Parties memorialized the Settlement in a Joint 28 Stipulation of Class Action Settlement ("Settlement Agreement" or "Settlement").

1 (Mahoney Dec., ¶¶6-7, Ex. A.)

2 Prior to each mediation, the Parties engaged in informal discovery.
 3 Defendant provided to Plaintiff time and pay records for twenty-five percent of the 4 Class, Defendant's written policies and handbooks, and identified the number of 5 employees comprising the putative class, as well as the relevant total workweeks 6 and pay periods. Further, Defendant provided information and documents regarding 7 the prior wage and hour class action settlement reached by Defendant that obtained
 8 final approval on May 12, 2022, pertaining to the following cases: Walker v. Jabil
 9 Inc. et al., Santa Clara County Superior Court, Case No. 19CV347835; Moss v.
 10 Jabil Inc. et al., Alameda County Superior Court, Case No. RG19039453; and Moss
 11 v. Jabil Inc. et al., Alameda County Superior Court, Case No. HG20050536. Using 12 these records, Plaintiff retained an expert to analyze the records and prepare a 13 potential maximum exposure damage model for mediation. Class Counsel also 14 conducted extensive research and investigation into the potential claims before the 15 case was filed. (Mahoney Dec. ¶ 8.) Plaintiff was able to reasonably assess liability 16 on the part of Defendant and the resulting value of damages, paving the way for the 17 proposed settlement terms.

18 Based on analysis of Plaintiff's claims and Defendants' defenses, Plaintiff 19 and his counsel determined that the agreed-upon sum of one million forty thousand 20 dollars ($1,040,000.00) was a reasonable and appropriate as a gross settlement
 21 amount. (Mahoney Dec. ¶¶ 19-37.)

22 III. SUMMARY OF SETTLEMENT TERMS

23 A. Monetary Terms

24 Pursuant to the settlement agreement, and in consideration for the releases of 25 all claims at issue, Defendant agrees to pay an amount one million forty thousand 26 dollars ($1,040,000.00) (the "Gross Settlement Amount"), excluding Defendant's 27 side of payroll taxes (which Defendant will pay separately), as a full and complete 28 settlement of all claims arising from the action for all Class Members. The Gross

1 Settlement Amount includes payments made to Settlement Class Members, 2 settlement administration costs, awards of attorneys' fees and expenses, and the 3 service award for Plaintiff, if approved. (Mahoney Supp. Dec., Ex. A, ¶1.16.) The 4 Settlement Agreement provides that the Gross Settlement Amount will be allocated 5 as follows:

- 6 • Administration will be handled by Phoenix Class Action 7 Administrators, a third-party settlement Administrator, and the cost of 8 the Administration shall not exceed nine thousand dollars ($9,000.00) 9 and will be paid out of the Gross Settlement Amount (Mahoney Dec.
 10 Exhibit A, Paragraph 3.1);
- 11 • Defendant will not oppose an application for a Class Representative 12 Award in the amount of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), to be paid 13 out of the Gross Settlement Amount (Mahoney Dec. Exhibit A, 14 Paragraph 5.1.2);
- 15 • Defendant will not oppose Class Counsel's application for a Class 16 Counsel Fees in the amount of (i) 33⅓% of the Gross Settlement 17 Amount (or $346,632.00) and (ii) litigation costs of up to twenty-five 18 thousand dollars ($25,000.00) (Mahoney Dec. Exhibit A, Paragraph 19 5.1.1);

20 B. Settlement Class Members' Released Claims

21 By operation of the entry of the Final Approval Order, and except as to such 22 rights or claims as may be created by this Agreement, all Settlement Class Members 23 fully release Defendant and each Released Party from any and all claims arising 24 during the Class Period that were alleged in any operative complaint or that could 25 have been alleged based on the factual allegations in any operative complaint, 26 including California Labor Code sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 206, 226, 226.3, 27 226.7, 510, 512, 1174, 1174.5, 1182.12, 1194, 1194.2, 1197, 1197.1, 1198, 2802, 28 the applicable Industrial Welfare Commission Wage Orders and California Code of 1 Regulations, and California Business and Professions Code section 17200 et seq.

 2 No release in this Settlement shall be effective until the Gross Settlement Amount 3 has been deposited with the Settlement Administrator. (Mahoney Dec., Ex. A, ¶6.1.)

4 IV. CONDITIONAL CERTIFICATION FOR SETTLEMENT 5 PURPOSES IS APPROPRIATE

6 The Parties have stipulated that the court may, for settlement purposes only, 7 certify a Settlement Class. A proposed class may be conditionally certified if it 8 “satisfies the requirements of Rule 23(a) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 9 applicable to all class actions, namely: (1) numerosity, (2) commonality, (3) 10 typicality, and (4) adequacy of representation. (Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp. 150 F.3d 11 1011, 1019 (9th Cir. 1998).) The party seeking certification of a proposed 12 settlement class must also show that the action falls within one of the three 13 subsections of Rule 23(b) relating to predominance of common questions and 14 superiority of the class action mechanism. All of the requirements of Rule 23(a) and 15 23(b) are met here.

16 A. Numerosity

17 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 (a)(1) requires that the class is so 18 numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. Numerosity does not require 19 that joinder of all Members be impossible, but only that joinder be impracticable.
 20 (Arnold v. United Artists Theatre Circuit, Inc. (N.D. Cal. 1994) 158 F.R.D. 439, 21 440.) In this matter, the Settlement Class includes approximately 1,150 current and 22 former employees, and therefore, numerosity is easily established. (Mahoney Dec., 23 ¶4.) Given the common issues of law and fact present in the case, numerosity is 24 satisfied.

25 Additionally, the proposed class must be ascertainable, and must identify, “a 26 distinct group of plaintiffs whose members can be identified with particularity.” 27 (Lerwill v. Inflight Motion Pictures, Inc. (9th Cir. 1978) 582 F.2d 507, 512.) Here, 28 the members of the proposed class can easily be identified through Defendant’s own

1 timekeeping, payroll records and other employment records. Therefore, the 2 settlement class is both sufficiently numerous and ascertainable.

3 B. Common Issues of Law and Fact

4 The commonality requirement is met if there are questions of law and fact 5 common to the class. (See Hanlon, supra, 150 F.3d at p. 1019 (“The existence of 6 shared legal issues with divergent legal factual predicates is sufficient, as is a 7 common core of salient facts coupled with disparate legal remedies within the 8 class”).) Here, Plaintiff maintains that common factual and legal issues include, 9 among other things: (1) whether Defendant engaged in a common course of failing 10 to compensate Class Members for all hours worked, (2) whether Class Members 11 were not reimbursed for necessary business expenses; (3) whether Defendant failed 12 to provide timely uninterrupted meal periods or compensation in lieu thereof; (4) 13 whether Defendant failed to provide timely uninterrupted rest periods or 14 compensation in lieu thereof; and (5) whether these alleged violations resulted in 15 ancillary violations of Labor Code, § 203, and 226, as well as whether they support 16 the basis for relief under the UCL. Defendant does not oppose these contentions for 17 the purpose of this Settlement only. Furthermore, Plaintiff asserts that all Class 18 Members suffer from, and seek redress for, the same alleged injuries. Similarly, 19 Defendant does not oppose these contentions for the purpose of this settlement only.
 20 Under these specific circumstances, Plaintiff maintains that the commonality 21 requirement is satisfied. (See Id. at p. 1019–20.) Further, the Ninth Circuit has held 22 that commonality exists “where the lawsuit challenges a system-wide practice or 23 policy that affects all of the putative class members.” Armstrong v. Davis (9th Cir.
 24 2001) 275 F.3d 849, 868. Therefore, to satisfy the commonality requirement, the 25 claims must depend upon a common contention that “must be of such a nature that 26 it is capable of class wide resolution - which means that determination of its truth 27 or falsity will resolve an issue that is central to the validity of each one of those 28 claims in one stroke.” Dukes, supra, 131 S.Ct. at 2551.

1 Plaintiff alleges that all claims in this Action are based on common, class-2 wide policies and procedures, and that liability could accordingly be determined on 3 a class-wide basis, without dependence on individual assessments of liability.
 4 Brinker Restaurant Corp. v. Superior Court (2012) 53 Cal.4th 1004, 1033 (“Claims 5 alleging that a uniform policy consistently applied to a group of employees is in 6 violation of the wage and hour laws are of the sort routinely, and properly, found 7 suitable for class treatment.) Accordingly, Plaintiff asserts that the answers to the 8 aforementioned questions determine liability to all Class Members claims, wherein 9 commonality is satisfied.

10 C. Typicality

11 The typicality requirement is met if the claims of the name representative is 12 typical of those of the class, though “they need not be substantially identical.” (See 13 Hanlon, supra, 150 F.3d at p. 1020; Classen v. Weller, 145 Cal. App. 3d 27, 46-47 14 (1983).) Courts have held that typicality and commonality requirements “tend to 15 merge,” and a finding of commonality ordinarily will support a finding of typicality.
 16 (General Telephone Co. of Southwest v. Falcon (1982) 457 U.S. 147; Wehner v.
 17 Syntex Corp. (N.D. Cal. 1987) 117 F.R.D. 641, 644.) This requirement is 18 “permissive” and requires only that the representative’s claims are reasonably 19 related to those of the absent class members. Rodriguez v. Hayes (9th Cir. 2010)
 20 591 F.3d 1105, 1124. The permissive standard of typicality focuses on similarity 21 between the legal theories of the proposed class representatives and the legal 22 theories of those class members they seek to represent. See Tibble v. Edison Intern.
 23 (9th Cir. 2013) 711 F.3d 1061, 1074. In deciding whether individual variations 24 preclude typicality, the focus should be on the behavior of the defendants. Day v.
 25 NLO (S.D. Ohio 1994) 851 F.Supp. 869, 884; Capitol People First v. State Dept. of 26 Developmental Services (2007) 155 Cal.App.4th 676, 692–93. The typicality 27 requirement is satisfied “whether other members have the same or similar injury, 28 whether the action is based on conduct that is not unique to the named plaintiffs,

1 and whether the other class members have been injured by the same course of 2 conduct.” Hanon v. Dataproducts Corp. (9th Cir. 1992) 976 F.2d 497, 508.

3 In this case, Plaintiff alleges claims based on Defendant’s conduct and 4 policies and practices applicable to all Class Members. Further, Plaintiff seeks the 5 similar damages (i.e., unpaid wages, penalties, etc.) as other current and former 6 employees. Therefore, Plaintiff asserts that typicality is easily met in this matter.
 7 Defendant does not oppose this assertion, for the purpose of this Settlement motion 8 only.

9 D. Adequacy of Representation

10 The adequacy requirement is met if the class representative and class counsel 11 have no interests adverse to the interests of the proposed class members and are 12 committed to vigorously prosecuting the case on behalf of the class. (See Hanlon, 13 supra, 150 F.3d at p. 1020; McGhee v. Bank of America (1976) 60 Cal.App.3d 442, 14 450–51.) Plaintiff’s counsel is experienced in wage and hour class litigation.
 15 (Mahoney Dec., ¶¶9-18; Declaration of John A. Young (“Young Dec.”), ¶8.)
 16 Plaintiff and his counsel have fairly and adequately represented the proposed 17 settlement class and have vigorously prosecuted this action on behalf of the 18 proposed settlement class. Plaintiff and his counsel do not have any claims or 19 interests which conflict or are antagonistic to the class. (Mahoney Dec., ¶¶17-18.)
 20 The adequacy requirement is met where, as here, the class representative’s claims 21 are sufficiently interrelated to and not antagonistic to the claims of the class.
 22 (Hanlon, supra, 150 F.3d at p. 1020.)

23 Therefore, Plaintiff maintains that the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a) 24 are met in this matter.

25 E. Conditional Certification Pursuant to FRCP 23(b)(3) is 26 Appropriate as Common Questions Predominate

27 Under Fed. R. Civ. P 23(b)(3), a Plaintiff must demonstrate that common 28 questions “predominate over any questions affecting only individual members” and

1 that a class action is “superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient 2 adjudication of the controversy. (Fed. Rules Civ. Proc., rule 23, 28 U.S.C.A.(b)(3).) 3 This requirement is met in this instant matter. When assessing predominance and 4 superiority, the Court may consider that the class will be certified for settlement 5 purposes only. (Amchem Products, Inc. v. Windsor (1997) 521 U.S. 591, 620.) The 6 manageability of trying the case as a class action is not a factor for a settlement-
 7 only class. (Id. at p. 620.)

8 As detailed above, Plaintiff maintains that his allegations against Defendant 9 raises common questions about the policies of Defendant, and the class members’ 10 potential legal remedies are identical. Plaintiff asserts that the proposed class in this 11 case is sufficiently cohesive because, for purposes of the Settlement only, the parties 12 agree that all class members share a “common nucleus of facts and potential legal 13 remedies,” as was present in Hanlon, supra, 150 F.3d 1011, where the Ninth Circuit 14 approved class certification under the standards set forth in Amchem. Plaintiff 15 further asserts that the proposed Stipulated Class in this case is sufficiently cohesive 16 to warrant adjudication by representation. See Comcast Corp. v. Behrend (2013) 17 569 U.S. 27. Thus, this class may be certified for settlement purposes. Furthermore, 18 the proposed Settlement herein is “superior to other available methods for the fair 19 and efficient adjudication of the controversy.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3).

20 V. PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF THE SETTLEMENT IS 21 WARRANTED

22 To preliminarily approve a proposed class action settlement, Rule 23(e)(2) 23 requires the Court to determine whether the proposed settlement is fair, reasonable, 24 and adequate. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2) In turn, review of a proposed settlement 25 typically proceeds in two stages:

26 (1) The Court first conducts a preliminary fairness evaluation, and 27 if the Court preliminarily approves the settlement as falling 28 within the range of possible settlement approval, notice to the

1 class is then disseminated and a “fairness” or final approval 2 hearing is scheduled.

3 (2) A “formal fairness hearing,” or final settlement approval 4 hearing, at which class members may be heard regarding the 5 settlement, and at which evidence and argument concerning the 6 fairness, adequacy, and reasonableness of the settlement is 7 presented.

8 (Federal Judicial Center, Manual for Complex Litigation, § 21.632 (4th ed. 2004).)
 9 “The decision to [grant preliminary approval and] give notice of a proposed 10 settlement to the class is an important event. It should be based on a solid record 11 supporting the conclusion that the proposed settlement will likely earn final 12 approval after notice and an opportunity to object.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23 at Committee 13 Notes on Rules – 2018 Amendment.

14 “To determine whether a settlement agreement meets these standards, a 15 district court must consider a number of factors, including: the strength of plaintiffs’ 16 case; the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation; the risk 17 of maintaining class action status throughout the trial; the amount offered in 18 settlement; the extent of discovery completed, and the stage of the proceedings; the 19 experience and views of counsel; the presence of a governmental participant; and 20 the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.” Staton v. Boeing Co.
 21 (9th Cir. 2003) 327 F.3d 938, 959. “The relative degree of importance to be attached 22 to any particular factor will depend upon and be dictated by the nature of the claim(s) 23 advanced, the type(s) of relief sought, and the unique facts and circumstances 24 presented by each individual case.” Officers for Justice v. Civil Service Com'n of 25 City and County of San Francisco (9th Cir. 1982) 688 F.2d 615, 625. “It is the 26 settlement taken as a whole, rather than the individual component parts, that must 27 be examined for overall fairness,’ and ‘the settlement must stand or fall in its

1 entirety.” Staton, supra, 327 F.3d at p. 960 (quoting Hanlon, supra, 150 F.3d at p.
 2 1026).

3 In addition to these factors, where “a settlement agreement is negotiated prior 4 to formal class certification,” the Court must also satisfy itself that “the settlement 5 is not the product of collusion among the negotiating parties.” In re Bluetooth
 6 Headset Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 946-47 In re Bluetooth Headset Products
 7 Liability Litigation (9th Cir. 2011) 654 F.3d 935, 946-47. Accordingly, the Court 8 must look for explicit collusion and “more subtle signs that class counsel have 9 allowed pursuit of their own self-interests and that of certain class members to infect 10 the negotiations.” Id. at p. 947. Such signs include (1) “when counsel receive a 11 disproportionate distribution of the settlement,” (2) “when the parties negotiate a 12 ‘clear sailing’ arrangement providing for the payment of attorneys’ fees separate and 13 apart from class funds,” and (3) “when the parties arrange for fees not awarded to 14 revert to defendants rather than be added to the class fund.” Id.

15 At this preliminary stage, “a full fairness analysis is unnecessary.” Munday v.
 16 Navy Fed. Credit Union No. 15-1629-JLS-KES; 2016 WL 7655807, at *7 (C.D. Cal.
 17 Sept. 15, 2016). (“To determine whether preliminary approval is appropriate, the 18 settlement need only be potentially fair, as the Court will make a final determination 19 of its adequacy at the hearing on the Final Approval, after such time as any party has 20 had a chance to object and/or opt out.” In re Tableware Antitrust Litigation (N.D.
 21 Cal. 2007) 484 F.Supp.2d 1078, 1079 (internal citations and quotation marks 22 omitted); see also Acosta v. Trans Union, LLC (C.D. Cal. 2007) 243 F.R.D. 377, 23 386.

24 For the reasons provided below, Plaintiff requests that the Court grant 25 preliminary approval of the Settlement.

26 A. Strength of Plaintiff’s Case and Risk, Complexity, and Likely 27 Duration of Further Litigation

28 “Settlement eliminates the risks inherent in certifying a class, prevailing at 1 trial and notwithstanding any subsequent appeals, and it may provide the last 2 opportunity for class members to obtain relief.” Scott v. HSS, Inc., 2017 WL 3 10378588 *8 (C.D.Cal. Apr. 11, 2017). Given the potential risks of further litigation, 4 this factor weighs in favor of granting preliminary approval. See National Rural 5 Telecommunications Cooperative v. DIRECTV, Inc. (C.D. Cal. 2004) 221 F.R.D.

 6 523, 526 [“In most situations, unless the settlement is clearly inadequate, its 7 acceptance and approval are preferable to lengthy and expensive litigation with 8 uncertain results.”]).

9 The Court must also take into account the potential risks if litigation were to 10 proceed, including difficulties in calculating damages, unsettled or unclear law and 11 difficulties in securing witnesses for trial. (Mora v. Cal West Ag Services, Inc. (E.D.
 12 Cal., May 13, 2019, No. 115CV01490LJOEPG) 2019 WL 2084725, at *5.) Further, 13 the Court also must consider whether an action is anticipated to continue with 14 vigorous litigation and lengthy challenges regarding the merits of the claims and that 15 Defendant may prevail on their defenses. Id.

16 Plaintiff believes in the merits of this case and believes that he will prevail 17 should the case proceed to certification and trial. (Mahoney Dec., ¶23.) Plaintiff 18 alleges Class Members were not paid for all time worked for time spent being screed 19 for COVID-19 and for time spent responding to supervisors/managers while off-the-20 clock during meal periods. Defendant provided written policies effective during the 21 Class Period that required employees to record all hours worked “even if its for a 22 small increment of time” and a policy wherein employees could submit a Time 23 Adjustment Form if they believed they were required to work off-the-clock. As 24 such, Defendant contends that its policies are clear that Class Members were 25 required to accurately record all time worked. Defendant further believes it paid all 26 employees for all hours worked at the proper rate of pay and that required overtime 27 was properly paid to all non-exempt employees. Defendant further contends that if 28 there were any pay errors, they were inadvertent and represented individual

1 circumstances not suitable for class action treatment. (Mahoney Dec., ¶27.) Plaintiff
2 contends that during the Class Period, Defendant failed to pay all overtime wages.
3 Plaintiff and Class Members routinely work over eight (8) hours a day and over forty 4 (40) hours a week. However, Defendant failed to properly pay all overtime wages.
5 Specifically, Plaintiff's theory that Defendants failed to include all non-discretionary 6 incentive payments in the regular rate of pay for overtime purposes. Defendant's 7 position is that there are no additional amounts owed to Plaintiff and or Class
8 Members as Defendants considers all renumeration paid when it calculates 9 Plaintiff's and putative class members' overtime rate. Further, it was contested that 10 Defendant need not include payments such as "shift premium" payments because 11 the payments were "percentage bonuses" similar to Lemm v. Ecolab Inc., 87 12 Cal.App. 5th 159 (2023). This would be a highly contested legal issue that the 13 parties would each have sought summary adjudication. (Mahoney Dec., ¶29.)
14 Plaintiff contends that meal periods, when provided, were provided after the fifth 15 hour of work, or interrupted due to business needs, regardless of each employee's 16 start time in violation of the California Labor Code. In addition, Plaintiff alleged that 17 Defendant failed to provide a second uninterrupted meal period for all shifts over 18 ten (10) hours in a day. Plaintiff contends that meal period premiums were not 19 provided for each and every violation which occurred. Defendant contends their 20 current meal period policies and practices are and always have been lawful in that 21 non-exempt employees have been "provided" meal periods as required, and its 22 policies and practices comply with the Labor Code, the Wage Orders, and all 23 applicable California state and federal laws. (Mahoney Dec., ¶30.) Plaintiff 24 contends that rest periods, when provided, were routinely interrupted due to business 25 needs and Defendant's prioritization work responsibilities over mandatory rest 26 periods in violation of the California Labor Code. Plaintiff contends that rest period 27 premiums were not provided for each and every violation which occurred.
28 Defendant contends their current rest period policies and practices are and always

1 have been lawful in that non-exempt employees have been “provided” rest periods
 2 as required, and its policies and practices comply with the Labor Code, the Wage 3 Orders, and all applicable California state and federal laws. (Mahoney Dec., ¶31.)

4 Despite the strengths of Plaintiff’s case, Plaintiff believes that the inherent 5 risks, complexity, and costs of what has so far been a protracted litigation weighs in 6 favor of preliminary approval of the Settlement. If litigation continued, these issues 7 and more would be the subject of extensive motion practice likely before and after 8 certification. Therefore, these factors weigh in favor of preliminary approval.

9 B. Amount Offered in Settlement

10 “To determine whether a settlement ‘falls within the range of possible 11 approval,’ courts focus on ‘substantive fairness and adequacy’ and ‘consider 12 plaintiffs’ expected recovery balanced against the value of the settlement offer.’” 13 Schuchardt v. Law Office of Rory W. Clark (N.D. Cal., Jan. 20, 2016, No. 15-CV-14 01329-JSC) 2016 WL 232435, at *10 (quoting Tableware, supra, 484 F. Supp. 2d 15 at 1080). “Immediate receipt of money through settlement, even if lower than what 16 could potentially be achieved through ultimate success on the merits, has value to a 17 class, especially when compared to risky and costly continued litigation.” In re
 18 LinkedIn User Privacy Litigation (N.D. Cal. 2015) 309 F.R.D. 573, 587. A 19 settlement amount that is only a fraction of the potential recovery does not render a 20 settlement inadequate or unfair per se. In re Vizio, Inc., Consumer Privacy Litigation 21 (C.D. Cal., Jan. 4, 2019, No. 816ML02693JLSKES) 2019 WL 12966639, at *9; see 22 also In re Mego Financial Corp. Securities Litigation (9th Cir. 2000) 213 F.3d 454, 23 459.

24 Fairness of a settlement is not conditioned upon Plaintiffs having obtained 25 the maximum amount Plaintiffs could have been awarded at trial, but rather, 26 whether the settlement is reasonable under the totality of the relevant circumstances.
 27 As the 9th Circuit noted in Linney v. Cellular Alaska Partnership (9th Cir. 1998) 28 151 F.3d 1234, 1242: “It is the very uncertainty of outcome in litigation and 1 avoidance of wasteful and expensive litigation that induce consensual settlement.

 2 The proposed settlement is not judged against a hypothetical or speculative measure 3 of what might have been achieved by the negotiators.”)

4 Individual Settlement Payments shall be made without the need to submit a 5 claim form and shall be calculated by (i) dividing the Settlement Class Member’s 6 total number of workweeks worked for Defendant in California after the end of the 7 Walker Settlement Period (i.e., January 19, 2021, through July 10, 2024, or the date 8 of the Preliminary Approval Order, whichever is earlier) by the total number of 9 workweeks worked by all Settlement Class Members for Defendant during the same 10 time period, and (ii) multiplying that pro rata share by the Net Settlement Amount.
 11 The calculation of Individual Settlement Payments shall be construed from 12 Defendant’s records. (Mahoney Dec., Ex. A, ¶5.2.)

13 Here, Plaintiff was provided with the total workweeks worked collectively by 14 the Class (approximately 105,000 workweeks), sampling of time and pay records, 15 the total number of Class Members and applicable policies to Plaintiff’s claims at 16 issue. From this information, Plaintiff was able to obtain an expert analysis and 17 damage model projecting the potential maximum exposure in this case. (Mahoney 18 Dec., ¶¶26-36.) Overall, Plaintiff estimates Class Members will receive 19 approximately twenty-six percent (26%) of the reasonable estimated value and as 20 such is fair and reasonable. (Mahoney Dec., ¶36.) This is within the range of 21 reasonableness to warrant preliminary approval. See Singh v. Roadrunner
 22 Intermodal Svcs., LLC, 2018 WL 242325 *7 (E.D.Cal. May 29, 2018) [approving 23 12% of estimated maximum damages]; Ferrell v. Buckingham Property
 24 Management (E.D. Cal., July 30, 2020, No. 119CV00332NONESAB) 2020 WL 25 4364647, at *2 [approving settlement amounting to 5.3% of estimated damages]; 26 Balderas v. Message Envy Franchising, LLC, 2014 WL 3160945 *5 (N.D.Cal. July 27 21, 2014) [approving settlement amounting to 5% of total value].

C. Extent of Discovery Proceedings and Stage of the Proceedings

With regard to the extent of discovery, ““formal discovery is not a necessary ticket to the bargaining table.”” Linney, supra, 151 F.3d 1234, 1239 (quoting In re Chicken Antitrust Litigation American Poultry (5th Cir. 1982) 669 F.2d 228, 241). This factor requires the Court to evaluate whether “the parties have sufficient information to make an informed decision about the settlement.” Linney, supra at 1239. Discovery can formal or informal or both. See In re Mego Financial Corp. Securities Litigation 213 F.3d 454 (9th Cir. 2000) [finding plaintiffs had sufficient information to make an informed decision about the settlement where formal discovery had not been completed but class counsel had conducted significant investigation, research and presented court with documentation supporting those services.]

Plaintiff maintains that this Settlement represents a significant guaranteed recovery for all the Settlement Class Members. In advance of the first mediation, Defendant agreed to, and did, provide Plaintiff with informal discovery relating to the size and scope of the class, total work weeks in the class period, sampling of Class Members' time records and pay records, and applicable employee handbooks containing Defendants' wage and hour policies. Prior to the second mediation Defendant's counsel provide updated data for the Class Members. (Mahoney Dec. ¶20.)

Here significant information regarding the potential claims and legal issues was investigated by Class Counsel before the case was even filed. (Mahoney Dec., ¶8, ¶20.) The Parties also discussed extensively the claims, supporting evidence, and documents during the Rule 26(f) conference. Prior to mediation, Class Counsel was provided with documents and data sufficient to engage an expert potential liability model. (Id.) Finally, additional legal issues, challenges and data were discussed and exchanged at mediation. Therefore, this factor weighs in favor of preliminary approval.

1 D. Experience and views of counsel

2 “Parties represented by competent counsel are better positioned than courts to 3 produce a settlement that fairly reflects the expected outcome of the litigation.” In 4 re Pacific Enterprises Securities Litigation (9th Cir. 1995) 47 F.3d 373, 378. As a 5 result, representation by competent counsel familiar with the law in the relevant area 6 and with “the strengths and weaknesses of [the parties’] respective positions, 7 suggests the reasonableness of the settlement.” In re Immune Response Securities 8 Litigation (S.D. Cal. 2007) 497 F.Supp.2d 1166, 1174. “The recommendations of 9 plaintiffs’ counsel should be given a presumption of reasonableness.” In re 10 Omnivision Technologies, Inc. (N.D. Cal. 2008) 559 F.Supp.2d 1036, 1043. In fact, 11 experienced counsel’s judgment in this respect carries considerable weight. See 12 National Rural Telecommunications Cooperative, supra, 221 F.R.D. at p. 528.

13 The settlement negotiations were conducted by experienced class counsel who 14 have been prosecuting this Action since its inception. (See Mahoney Dec., ¶5; 15 Declaration of John A. Young “Young Dec.” ¶2.) Class counsel wholeheartedly 16 endorses the settlement agreement as fair, reasonable, and adequate. (Mahoney Dec., 17 ¶36; Young Dec., ¶9.) That endorsement is the product of arm’s length negotiations 18 through two respected mediators who are familiar with legal and discovery issues 19 arising frequently in class actions. (Mahoney Dec., ¶¶6-7.) The Court should 20 therefore credit counsel’s recommendation that the settlement warrants preliminary 21 approval. See Linney, supra, 151 F.3d 1234 (N.D. Cal. July 18, 1997) 1997 WL 22 450064, at *5 (N.D. Cal. July 18, 1997). In the opinion of Class Counsel, the 23 Settlement is fair and reasonable. (Mahoney Dec., ¶36; Young Dec. ¶9.)

24 E. Arm’s length negotiation free from collusion

25 When a class settlement is reached before class certification such as the case 26 here, courts are “particularly vigilant” in searching for signs of collusion. In re 27 Bluetooth, supra, 654 F.3d at 946–47. Courts must look for explicit collusion and 28 “more subtle signs that class counsel have allowed pursuit of their own self-interests

1 and that of certain class members to infect the negotiations.” Id. at p. 947. Such signs 2 include “when the parties arrange for fees not awarded to revert to defendants rather 3 than be added to the class fund,” disproportionate distributions of settlement funds 4 to counsel, and clear-sailing arrangements, none of which exist here (Id.) Although 5 the “proposed settlement need not be ideal”, it “must be fair, free of collision, [and] 6 consistent with counsel’s fiduciary obligations to the class.” Rollins v. Dignity 7 Health, 336 F.R.D. 456, 461 (N.D.Cal. 2020). The involvement of a mediator is 8 evidence the negotiations were conducted at arms’ length. Joh v. American Income 9 Life Ins. Co., 2020 WL 109067 *7 (N.D.Cal. Jan. 9, 2020).

10 The Parties negotiated this settlement over the course of two (2) mediations 11 with experienced mediators. Subsequently, the Parties negotiated the agreement over 12 the course of weeks, discussing at length language within the agreement and its 13 potential impact on the class. (Mahoney Dec., ¶¶6-7.) This factor weighs in favor of 14 approval.

15 Accordingly, Plaintiff’s counsel’s opinion is that this settlement is a fair, 16 adequate, and reasonable resolution of the claims in this lawsuit. (Mahoney Dec.
 17 ¶36.) Defendants agrees that certification and approval of this settlement is 18 appropriate as a means to avoid the cost of further litigation, to avoid the disruption 19 to its business and employees associated with litigation, to avoid the disruption of 20 its business relationships, and to efficiently end the litigation.

21 VII. THE PROPOSED NOTICE IS APPROPRIATE AND 22 SATISFIES DUE PROCESS

23 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 23(e)(1)(B) provides that “[t]he court must 24 direct notice in a reasonable manner to all class members who would be bound by 25 the proposal.” “The best notice practicable under the circumstances, including 26 individual notice to all members who can be identified through reasonable effort,” 27 is required. (Fed.R.Civ.P. 23(c)(2)(B).) The proposed Class Notice is attached as 28 Exhibit B of Odenbreit Dec., filed concurrently herewith.

1 In this case, Plaintiff proposes that the Notice of the Settlement will be mailed 2 via U.S. first-class mail to each Class Member's last known address. Defendant
 3 agrees to provide the Settlement Administrator, fourteen (14) calendar days 4 following preliminary approval by this Court, Class Data for each Class Member.
 5 The Settlement Administrator will perform a search on the U.S. Postal Service 6 National Change of Address Database and update any addresses with any new 7 information found regarding the location of Class Members. Within twenty-one 8 (21) business days of receiving the Class Data, the Settlement Administrator will 9 send via first class mail the Court-approved Notice of Settlement to each Class 10 Member. If a Notice of Settlement is returned because of an undeliverable address, 11 the Settlement Administrator will conduct a skip trace to locate a current address.
 12 (Mahoney Dec., Ex. A, ¶¶3.2-3.4.)

13 The proposed Notice of Settlement provides information on the meaning and 14 nature of the proposed Class; the terms and provisions of the Settlement; the relief 15 the Settlement will provide to Settlement Class Members; the applications of 16 Plaintiff for his Service Award and of Class Counsel for their attorneys' fees and 17 expenses; the payment of the Settlement Administration Costs; the date, time and 18 place of the final settlement approval hearing; and the procedure and deadlines for 19 opting out of the Settlement or for submitting objections to the Settlement. If a Class 20 Member chooses to object to the Settlement, they will have forty-five (45) days to 21 submit to the Settlement Administrator an Objection to the Agreement. (Mahoney 22 Dec., Ex. A, ¶4.2.) Further, Class Members that choose to opt out of the settlement 23 will have forty-five (45) days from the mailing of the Class Notice to a request to 24 be excluded from the settlement. (Mahoney Dec., Ex. A, ¶4.3.)

25 The Notice of Settlement also fulfills the requirement of neutrality in class 26 notices. It summarizes the proceedings to date, and the terms and conditions of the 27 Settlement, in an informative and coherent manner, in compliance with the 28 Manual's statement that "the notice should be accurate, objective, and

1 understandable to Class Members.” The Notice of Settlement clearly states that the 2 Settlement does not constitute an admission of liability by Defendant and 3 recognizes that the Court has not ruled on the merits of the action. (Mahoney Dec., 4 Ex. A, Exhibit A to the Settlement Agreement pg. 1.) It also states that the final 5 settlement approval decision has yet to be made. Accordingly, the Notice of 6 Settlement complies with the standards of fairness, completeness, and neutrality 7 required of a settlement class notice disseminated under authority of the Court. (See 8 Fed. Rules Civ.Proc., rule 23, 28 U.S.C.A.(c)(2); 23(e).)

9 VIII. A FINAL APPROVAL HEARING SHOULD BE SCHEDULED

10 The last step in the settlement approval process is the formal final approval 11 hearing, at which the Court may hear all evidence and argument necessary to 12 evaluate the proposed settlement. At that hearing, proponents of the Settlement 13 may explain and describe its terms and conditions and offer argument in support of 14 Settlement approval; and Class Members or their counsel may be heard in support 15 of or in opposition to the Settlement Agreement. The Parties propose that the final 16 approval hearing be held on or after October 30, 2024, or a date thereafter 17 convenient for the Court.

18 IX. CONCLUSION

19 For the foregoing reasons, the Parties respectfully request the Court make 20 orders as to the following:

- 21 1. Certifying for settlement purposes only the following classes:
 - 22 a. All current or former non-exempt employees who worked for 23 Defendant in California during the Class Period. This definition

 26 severance agreements in connection with reductions in force and 27 who were not re-hired to work for Defendant in California after 28 executing the severance agreement or (ii) who participated in the 2 California after January 19, 2021;

13 Settlement Agreement and set forth in the Notice of Settlement;

14 7. Directing Defendant to furnish the Settlement Administrator within

16 of the Settlement the Class Data, which shall be compiled in good faith
